

March 2021

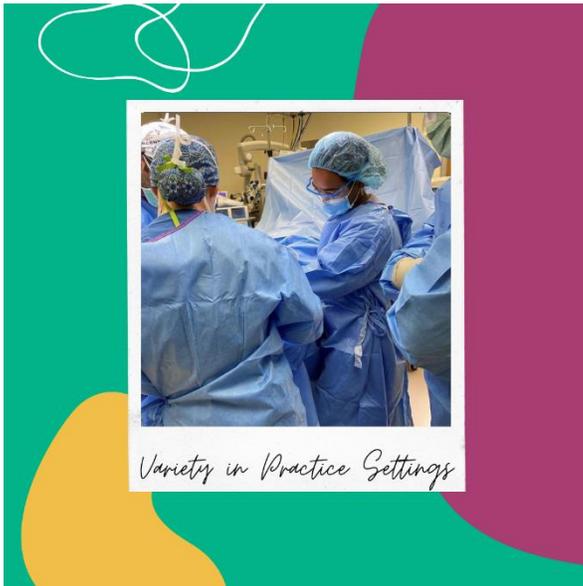

Student Recruitment Social Media Posts:

Podiatric medical students prepare for their specialty from day one of podiatric medical school with specialized education and training. There are only nine colleges of podiatric medicine that offer this exclusive training – check out the full list at stepintopodiatry.com.

Being able to provide immediate relief to patients is one of the most rewarding aspects of podiatry. An added bonus is building relationships with patients too! Stepintopodiatry.com has a full list of reasons to consider this growing physician specialty.

From private practice to the OR, podiatrists enjoy a variety of practice settings, and in some instances can practice in a number of different health-care settings over the course of their career. Learn more reasons to consider a career in podiatry: stepintopodiatry.com

Want an inside look at becoming a podiatrist? Follow @official_APMA on Instagram for featured content from podiatric medical students, residents, and practicing physicians showcasing this dynamic surgical and medical field.

As your goals in life change, your career can change with them! Podiatry offers the opportunity for flexible work-life balance depending on how your priorities may change over the course of your career. Visit stepintopodiatry.com to connect with a podiatry mentor and learn more about this exciting medical profession.